Jippo's Name

Since Jippo was introduced, there have been two spellings of his name. One is the Japanese way names are written (十歩), and the other is written out in "English" letters, all in lower case (jippo). The first is his actual name, and the second appears to be his gamer persona.

I hadn't differentiated in previous chapters, but in this one, it seemed important to distinguish between them, so I'm going to keep them different from now on. I hope the font made it distinguishable enough.
